

I first type my text of interest, such as

"Phil Lucht Documents"

Then under high magnification 500% I screen-clip it cutting very close to the bottom text.

Then paste it in line, do right click format picture size so 20%, at least that gave the following:

P. Lucht, Tensor Analysis and Curvilinear Coordinates (2012, <http://user.xmission.com/~rimrock/>). This document is segmented into two PDF files, the second containing a set of Appendices.. If link is bad, search on "Phil Lucht Documents".

This looks like a good plan. The PDF also looks fine.
